Our Wetzel Correspondence.

NEW MARTINAVILLE, WETZEL Co.,

Bellors of the Intelligenour: Sitting poised upon two or three pil-lows, as I sm, and being unable to make the slightest move toward any point of the compass without incurring the cer-tainty of more sches and pains than one usually cares about experiencing in a year is not a plessant condition at any time, and more particularly when you have be-fore you the task of writing a letter. My bruised and bleeding, aching and paintal condition is but the consequence of a thirty-two-mile from Wiley & Boughner's store and re-turn, to attend the Democratic meeting turn, to attend the Democratic meeting held to-day. I knew before I started that I would no doubt be pretty well shaken up upon my return, but I did not expect to be quite so generally demoralized as at present. Each particular bone and muscle in my whole body seems to be at war with all the rest. As for the loss of cuticle, Learner seek for I fear to undertake to I cappot speak, for I fear to undertake to ASCERTAIN THE RESULT. How the balance of the party feel I do not know, but from the way Hans. Good turned and twisted and wriggled in his saddle during the last mile or so of the ride I think he will be unable to walk erect for the balance of the summer.

HORSE-BACK RIDE,

We left here this morning about half past seven o'clock, the rain then pouring down like a deluge. Our party proper might be said to comprise

THE POLLOWING NAMED GENTLEMEN THE FOLLOWING WAMED GENTLEMEN:
Captaine Robert McEldowney, Sheriff
Brookover, Deputy Sheriff Aiken, L. S.
Half, A. G. Stringer, George O. Davenport, Hans Good and the writer. Now, a sixteen-mile horse-back ride is not, to the inexperienced, at any time a journey looked forward to with an unbounded degree of [pleasure; but undertake that journey through mud and rain, and over a rough, hilly road, and it is far worse to contemplate. But we were here to get contemplate. But we were here to get to the meeting (speaking now of the Wheeling gentlemen),

AND GO WE DID.

The ride from here to Wiley and Boughners would be under favorable circumstances one of exceeding interest. The road leafs from here up Doolsn Ran, a Ran otten mentioned during the Jennings campaign, for several miles, when it crosses over to Little Planing Creek, and this ride from Doolan over to Little Pishing. Creek, and this ride from Doolan over to Little Pishing, passes over a country of great natural beauty. The view from the top of the hill is very fine and would, of itself be worth almuch longer ride. We found the country here thickly settled, and many school houses scattered over the country. The land is very good and all

THE CROPS LOCKING WELL. Wiley and Boughners is very near the geographical centre of the county, and is altogether likely the point where the county sest will some day, in the no re-mote future, be located. Messra. W. and mote rature, be located. Mesers. W. and only started their store and tobacco ware-house a short time ago. They do a large trade and will this year handle 100,000 POUNDE OF TOBACCO. They are both hard working, enterprising gentlemen, and their hospitalities as ing gentlemen, and their hospitalities as extended to our party, know no bound. Our party owe many obligations to them. The meeting was called to select delegates to the Eijenboro Convention, and to attend to other Democratic political business. But the crowd had assembled from all parts of the county through the rain, more particularly to hear Con. Wilson and Hans Good's speeches. But the Colonel didn't come to time. But

HANS, AND GEO, DAVENPORT

mara and ozo. Daverport consumed the time of the meeting in two speeches that certainly took well. Hans. spoke one hour and a half, and we must confess he interested us. Some of his arguments were novel, and would have fallen before a much less gifted speaker from the Republican stand-point; but then they were not much for reply.
They were only for members of the faith

They were only for members of the faith IN GOOD STANDING, and as such were undoubtedly swallowed whole. George devoted his time principally to clearing up his own character and that of the Legislature in general. How he succeeded is for his Democratic brethren to say.

We were more surprised at the character of the audience assembled than anything else. We circulated around and entered into conversation with many of thing else. We circulated around and entered into conversation with many of those present, and we found them almos table present, and we lound them almost universality well informed and intelligent. In fact, it was an audience far above the average of political audiences, and spoke worlds for Wetzel. This county has been maligned until it is often asked, CAN ANY GOOD THING COME OUT OF

WETZEL?

We say yea. You can there find intelligence and culture going hand in hand with thrift and honest toil—Honesty and industry to as great a dagree as any county in the State. I have not written these letters to malign Wetzel again. I have come to tell the truth to again. I have come to tell the truth to the world as I seet it. I do not desire nor could I give it a rose tint. I only write as I think and if I err then Wetzel is not the loser. But Wetzel is one of our 54 counties, is our siter, and I am chary of her reputation and it possible I shall clear up her character which has so long been up her character which has so long been villined and bring her before you in her robes of purity. She is a Democratic, hopelessly Democratic, county. For this reason we see not her worth as we would like, but we have tried to lay off prejudice and write as she deserves.

I have been to considerable trouble to get at the volume of Wetzel's lumber interests, but find it a hard job. But this much we shave ascersiened: Her exports from the river front will run over $1,000,000 per annum. And this when that trade is yet in its swaddling clothes. Her forests it may be said have not as yet been touched, and may be said to be inexhaustable. Within two years from now her lumber trade will be treble what it now is, and then will ONLY DE AN INPANT. But of this and other things I will speak at some future time, when to move is not pain and a quick movement sudden death, Nosidda.
